transitions

Changes are an inevitable part of life. While they are often difficult, changes are necessary and many times prepare the individual or organization for growth. President Sidney Grant has led FEA Ministries with distinction for nearly ten years. Not long ago he felt God guiding him away from the presidency at the conclusion of his current term in February 2017. Thus began a period of transition for both him and FEA.

We are grateful for a clear sense of God's guidance as the FEA Board of Directors conducted a thorough search for the person to succeed President Grant. As the selection process came to a close and the next president was unanimously elected, there was no doubt that the transition was in God's hands.

In this special issue we are happy to introduce you to FEA's President-Elect and give you details of the transition timeline. You will also have the opportunity to view a recap of Sea Breeze Camp 2016 and read how God is helping in other areas of transition throughout our organization. Great days are ahead for FEA Ministries. Thank you for standing with us! ☺

A Time of Transition

God gives clear direction on how to respond to His call, to His leadership, and to transition from one aspect of ministry to another. One of the key elements in any transition is finding a person who is qualified to lead according to God's standard.

Dr. Miles Munroe said, "The first act of a visionary leader should be to identify and begin mentoring [his] replacement." While the selection of Harold as president of FEA Ministries was not the work of any one person, in retrospect I see the composite leadership of present and past Hobe Sound Ministries' leaders believing in and mentoring him.

Shortly after informing the FEA Board of Directors of my plans to step down from the presidency of FEA Ministries, I began to wonder who the board would select to replace me. Of course the selection, the vetting process, and the voting are sole responsibilities of the board. Nonetheless, I felt responsible to join the board in praying and fasting that God would guide them in selecting the person He has prepared to lead FEA Ministries.

Following a time of intense and prayerful deliberation, on Thursday afternoon, February 11, the board informed me that God helped them unanimously select Mr. Harold Martin as president-elect of FEA Ministries. I have served with Harold in various leadership capacities in the Hobe Sound Ministries. I have observed his life—personal and family—and have developed a deep sense of admiration, appreciation, and respect for his passionate resolve to be like Christ and his compassion for people.

Harold will bring many qualities to the presidency and administration of FEA. He was born, raised, and mentored within the Hobe Sound Ministries. I know he has a deep commitment to FEA and a personal sense of mission and vision for its continued global impact.

I look forward to working closely with Harold throughout the transitional process and passing the baton to him in February 2017. He is God's chosen man for the next leadership phase of FEA Ministries. Would you join me and Harold in praying for wisdom and grace through this time of transition? When God's children boldly step out in faith, He does amazing things through them. My prayer for all ongoing leadership of FEA Ministries is that they would have bold faith and a blessed future. 🙏

When God's children boldly step out in faith, He does amazing things through them.

Sea Breeze Camp

2016 in Review

God's heavenly breezes blew, and we were refreshed and renewed for the journey ahead!

People from all across the United States and various other countries traveled to Hobe Sound during February to be a part of the 69th annual Sea Breeze Camp. We praise God for answering prayer and meeting the camp's financial needs as well as people's spiritual needs. These ten days are always a special time when old friendships are strengthened and new friendships are born. We welcome you to join us for fellowship next year!

PLATFORM PERSPECTIVE

From Rollin Mitchell's opening-night message on Mary and Martha, through the Bible Studies by Paul Stetler, and the classic messages of Darrell Stetler, all sweetly harmonized by the musical ministry of the Cassady family, Sea Breeze Camp of 2016 was blessed of the Lord. Many souls found spiritual help at the altar. Praise God for His presence!

—Leonard Sankey, 2016 Camp Platform Chairman

THOUGHTS FROM THE PRESIDENT

The diversity of activities during camp: missions day with its rich update of what God is doing around the world through HIM and our sister organizations; the youth services and activities; the children's ministries; the Hispanic camp; the Hobe Sound Bible College special services and Homecoming activities; the new Sea Breeze Lectures Series; the patriotic emphasis; the special recognition of those who faithfully served FEA Ministries down through the years; and the tours to historical sites on campus created an environment in which the whole family of God could be individually and collectively edified. Our vision of Sea Breeze Camp as an event for personal spiritual revival and a friendly place of fellowship for the whole family was once again fulfilled. God's heavenly breezes blew, and we were refreshed and renewed for the journey ahead!

—Sidney Grant, FEA President

National Leader of the Year

Rev. Kali Nthabi was saved in 1991 through the efforts of American missionaries and HIM's former National Director, Rev. Tsikane Pheko, who held an extended tent meeting in his village. When Jesus came into his heart, he was set free from demonic powers that had tormented him for many years.

Pastor Kali enrolled in a weekend Bible School that was started by HIM missionaries in 2004. His thirst for knowledge and willingness to put into practice what he learned set him apart from the other students in his class. Following his graduation, he joined the teaching staff and has volunteered almost every Friday night of his life since 2009 to train others for the ministry.

Pastor Kali's leadership ability has grown immensely since his conversion. Today he serves as chairman of Hope International Missions' national church board in Lesotho and oversees ten congregations. He is HIM's Lesotho orphan ministry coordinator and a trusted adviser to missionaries and national pastors. It was our privilege to honor Rev. Kali as HIM's National Leader of the Year during Missions Day at Sea Breeze Camp. 🙏

HIM Stateswoman of the Year

Jeanne Schwartz is a true missionary in every sense of the word. Her heart and passion for missions has been evident by her dedication to helping others around the world for the last fifty years. She has given sacrificially of her time and energy to teach, preach, and train leaders at home and abroad. Sister Schwartz has exemplary leadership gifts that are still being demonstrated in her commitment to China where she meets with Christians in hidden locations to encourage and uplift those who do not have the freedom to worship in public settings. Jeanne Schwartz has been part of the FEA Ministries team for the past twenty-six years. It was a great honor to award her missionary stateswoman of the year during Sea Breeze Camp Meeting Missions Day, February 9, 2016. Thank you, Sister Schwartz, for giving to the Lord! 🙏

Thank You LEONARD SANKEY

Leonard Sankey began his service with FEA Ministries as a board member in 1998. He was elected chairman of the board in 2005 and served with excellence in that capacity until his resignation in 2010. From 2008 until 2016, Rev. Sankey served as platform chairman for Sea Breeze Camp. As always, his presence on the camp platform greatly enhanced the spirit of the services. As chairman he led with discernment and grace. His service to FEA throughout the years has been with distinction and dignity. Rev. Sankey is a spiritual giant with a deep passion for God and humility of spirit. We are sincerely grateful for his service to us, and on behalf of the Sea Breeze Camp family, we honor him. May the God who has gifted and used Leonard Sankey grant strength and favor as his leadership continues to influence lives around the world.

“Here in Hobe Sound, God has provided us with such a wonderful setting—a beautiful campus and ample room for our needs. Sea Breeze Camp is a place and time filled with so much holiness history and the memories of so many legendary personages. The camp people generally are a happy and blessed congregation. It is so wonderful to see the beaming faces, upraised hands, and the joyful participation in the congregational singing and praying.” —Leonard Sankey

Leonard Sankey is one of the best platform chairmen I’ve seen anywhere. In this his last year as platform chairman, we want to recognize and honor him for his years of service with FEA in general and also as platform chairman for Sea Breeze Camp. —Sidney Grant

We honor Leonard Sankey. He has done a fantastic job over the years of serving FEA Ministries and serving the camp meeting. —Rodney Loper 🙏

A New Church in Fort Myers

By nature transitions take place over a course of time. Some are short, and some take longer than others. Recently our Spanish church in Fort Myers, Florida, has been undergoing a rather long transition. About six years ago we started looking for land on which to build a permanent home for this growing body of believers. At that time our congregation of around one hundred individuals was meeting in a small room at the Fort Myers Rescue Mission. We realized a change had to be made and after much searching were able to purchase nearly five acres of land in the heart of the Hispanic population of Fort Myers. For us, transition had begun.

From the very beginning, this project included the whole church with forty or fifty young men working together to clear the jungle that made up our property. The church building fund started to grow as now there was action taking place. Excitement was in the air! Plans were drawn for a new sanctuary. Volunteers from Mission Helps and Hearts and Hands Ministries came forward with offers to help in the construction. After leading us to the right parcel of land, God also led us to the engineers and contractors who could help make this change a reality.

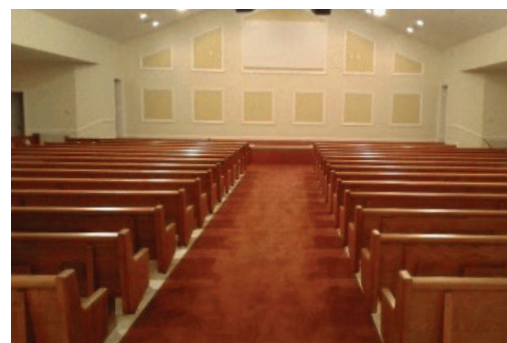

I have heard stories of building projects that divided churches. But with this project, God was leading a congregation not only growing in number but also in excitement as they saw Him working on their behalf. Change can be a unifying event when God is in it.

Finally the day came when the pastor had the privilege of laying the first block—the cornerstone for the new church. By this time the congregation had grown to around two hundred people, and only lack of space was holding us back from further growth.

Volunteer groups arrived to work alongside the church men, and the walls and roof went up in just seven days. The ladies of the church supported by preparing hearty meals for the workers.

God was not just building a new structure. The church members have come through this time as a closer congregation and are now transitioning from the construction phase to focus on evangelism as they seek to fill their new church.

I feel blessed to have been able to work with Pastor Rigoberto, his team, and all the volunteers from start to finish on this project. As we leave the old building and enter the new, it is clear that God has led us through this transition time. 🙏

I HAVE SET BEFORE YOU AN OPEN DOOR

For the last several months, the FEA Board of Directors has been prayerfully selecting and vetting candidates for the presidency of FEA Ministries to be filled at the conclusion of President Grant's term in February 2017. The board met February 11-12 for the annual winter board meeting. After much prayer and careful deliberation, Harold Martin, Executive Vice-President of Missionary Flights International (MFI), was selected as president-elect. We thank God for His help and guidance in this process.

Introducing President-Elect Harold Martin

Letter from President-Elect Martin

For nearly fourteen years I have been serving at Missionary Flights International (MFI) in Fort Pierce, Florida. It has been a rewarding ministry under which to serve, and we certainly have not been looking for opportunities to serve elsewhere. MFI is making a tremendous impact in the Caribbean region, and it has been a privilege to be a part of such an incredible ministry. I have prayed many times over the years, however, that if God ever wanted to move our family to another ministry, He would need to open the doors He wanted us to walk through, and He would need to make it very clear to us.

I can say without hesitation that this prayer has been answered over the past several months. The philosophy that Kayla and I have used in discerning God's will throughout our married life has been quite simple. We pray, seek advice from godly council, and walk through the doors that open easily.

In November 2015 when the FEA Ministries Board of Directors asked if I would allow my name to be considered for the position of FEA President, I was extremely honored and yet troubled at the same time. As previously mentioned I was not looking to leave MFI and giving up missionary aviation was not in our plans. However, I felt very clear at that time about allowing my name to be considered and to take | continued on page 10 ▷

From the FEA Board Chairman

SHANE CRAYCRAFT

There is a time and season for all things. At FEA one season is drawing to a conclusion and another is beginning. Sidney Grant has served God's kingdom with distinction through FEA for many years. His time in leadership has been fruitful and productive. But in the summer of 2014, President Grant notified the FEA Board of Directors that his present term would be his final one. So in February of 2017, a time and season will end.

The FEA Board of Directors spent much time seeking God's will for this transition. The manner in which President Grant notified the board provided a luxury that is not often available in such transitions. He provided the luxury of time—time to be used for the selection and transition of a new president.

A nominating committee was appointed, and the names of potential candidates were submitted to them for review. A list of highly-qualified candidates was narrowed with the intent of finding the appropriate person for FEA's future. Prayer was an integral part of the process. As board members, collectively and privately, prayer guided the choice. And in the end one name remained. By a unanimous vote, Harold Martin was selected to be the next president of FEA. There is a time and season for all things. It is our common belief that the up and coming season is his time.

As a board we have deeply appreciated your prayerful support. It has been meaningful to us all. We ask that you continue to support the work of God's ministry through your prayers as we move through this time of change. 🙏 the process one step at a time. Kayla and I began praying earnestly and seeking council. I specifically prayed that God would make His will clear to the board members and that there would be unanimity in the decision-making process.

Throughout the process a song by the Gaithers kept coming to my mind.

"Beyond the open door is a new and fresh anointing, hear the Spirit calling you to go, walk on through the door and the Lord will go before you into a greater power than you've ever known before."

The Bible verse referenced in this song is found in Revelation 3:8, "I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door..." On at least three different occasions in early 2016, I was in services where this scripture was used either as a text or in the making of a point. It was as if God was urging us to proceed.

Though transitions are often difficult, God has given me a peace and deep assurance that we are in the center of His will. It will be a big adjustment for our family, and I will miss flying at MFI. But I stand on a promise that God gave me shortly before graduation from college, "Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ." Philippians 1:6

CULTURAL CONNECTIONS

Romania

Romania is full of quaint villages where at least forty-five percent of the population still resides. Most of these villages have properties surrounded by some sort of fencing and situated on either side of a dirt road. Behind these fences is typically found a small dwelling, along with a garden and numerous trees that produce all kinds of fruits and vegetables. Many people also have livestock, which usually includes at least one cow, several pigs, geese, goats, turkeys and a clutch of chickens for both meat and egg production.

During the day, the majority of the smaller animals roam on the roads, grazing freely at their leisure. It is common to come in contact with a neighbor's fowls and livestock on a regular basis. Quite often, one can see a flock of sheep being led through the village by a shepherd and his faithful dogs. Every morning, it is not abnormal to see a large number of cows heading off to pasture, accompanied by one of the villagers. As these cows march down the street, at each house another one slowly joins the group as they make their way to the fields. When the sun begins to set, these same cows return unsupervised back into the village and to their respective dwellings. Bicycles and horse-drawn carts are the preferred mode of transportation, and many still rely on the village well to obtain their drinking water.

It is true that when you enter many of Romania's villages, it feels as if you are literally stepping back in time. For some a village lifestyle may seem a bit antiquated. However, for the ministry with which Hope International Missions is involved, a village setting has proven to be an ideal place. It has allowed our missionaries to teach children from the House of Hope orphanage the benefit of hard work and responsibility. It has also provided opportunities to cultivate relationships with the young people from the village through the activities at HIM's Fellowship Center. Through these relationships the gospel message is shared on a regular basis. Our prayer is that many will become disciples of Jesus through this work. ✂

Romanian traditional food is quite rich and features simple but delicious meals. Meatballs of various types are an integral part of this cuisine. Chiftele (Romanian meatballs) is one such traditional meat dish. Chiftele can be served as an appetizer or as a main course and is enjoyed with marinara sauce, mustard, sour cream, or other dips.

Chiftele (Romanian Meatballs)

A traditional recipe of Romania provided by Sally Sebo

Prep time: 20 mins

Cook time: 30 mins

INGREDIENTS

1 tbsp vegetable oil
1 large or 2 small onions, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, finely minced
2 medium potatoes grated
2 lb ground pork
2 eggs
½ cup bread crumbs
¼ cup parsley, finely chopped
¼ cup dill, finely chopped
salt and pepper to taste
oil for frying

Makes 6–8 servings.

Tip: Romanian meatballs can also be baked at 400 °F for 30 to 45 minutes or until cooked through.

HOW TO MAKE CHIFTELE

1. In a skillet add the tablespoon of oil and sauté the onions and garlic until tender. Add the grated potato and cook until tender. Let this cool.
2. In a large bowl add the remaining ingredients to the onion/potato blend and mix well.
3. Form into balls or the traditional small patties.
4. Heat frying oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. Once the oil is hot, place the meatballs in the oil and fry them for 3–4 minutes on each side or until they are crispy brown.
5. When done transfer the meatballs to a paper towel lined plate or a wire rack. Serve fresh and warm.

HIM Europe Expands into Slovakia

Every year approximately 400 young people graduate from the state-run orphanages in Slovakia and are forced to make it on their own. Many of these have nowhere to go, no job, and no one to help them.

God has given HIM a vision for assisting orphans as they make their transition from these orphanages to independent living. Often, because the young people have no knowledge or guidance as to how to live outside of an orphanage, their transition is not successful. Our goal is to help them avoid the traps of human trafficking and drugs by assisting them with education, spiritual training and the learning of critical life skills.

In December 2015 HIM purchased a property in Slovakia that has a 4,000 square foot house, a barn, and garage situated on just over three-quarters of an acre of land. From this location a ministry known as New Horizons Center is being launched to help young ladies find a personal relationship with Christ and learn how to successfully integrate into society. We are excited about the potential of the center.

- The location is perfect since it is just six miles from a larger city where the girls can find employment.
- There is excellent transportation into the city from the village.
- The property is large and has established fruit trees and grapevines.
- There is room for a sizable vegetable garden and some farm animals which will help the center become self-sustaining.

A Christian woman named Natasha will live in the home as its managing director. Ed Durham, regional director for HIM Europe, will serve as the executive director. He and his wife Heather continue to live and minister in Budapest, Hungary. The New Horizons Center will provide temporary transitional housing for those who have nowhere else to go. The center exists to transform disadvantaged youth into well-adjusted spiritual leaders and disciple makers through education, counseling, coaching and training.

A Place to Fellowship... And Other Campus Improvements

In the last issue of the World Update, I presented our plans to construct what we are calling our “fellowship porch” at the entrance to Friendship Hall, one of FEA’s guest facilities. I am happy to report that the basic construction was completed in time for our Sea Breeze Camp Meeting guests to begin enjoying this wonderful new addition. FEA Ministries thanks Leslie Crawford for a major donation which helped make this project possible. Thank you as well to donors who have assisted us in purchasing rocking chairs. There is still time for you to help. In addition to furnishing the porch, we want to re-paint the building, install window shutters, and add fresh landscaping to the entrance.

Our winter guests look forward to spending time outdoors in our mild February weather. We believe the much larger “fellowship porch” will allow a greater opportunity to enjoy outside relaxation and talking with friends. Come down and join us!

Looking to the future

We are grateful to all the donors who gave in the campus improvement offering during Sea Breeze Camp this year. As we determine the best allocation for these funds, we continue to make progress towards upgrading Manor Hall’s lobby to include a small kitchenette, adding in-room showers to more renovated rooms in Asbury Hall, and increasing the number of rooms with private baths. These are important needs that we are working to address in the coming months and beyond.

If you are interested in short or long-term housing options in Sea Breeze Community or if you have questions about our projects and plans for the future, please feel free to contact me personally at jontofte@feaministries.org or at 772-546-1113. 📧

FRIENDSHIP HALL

Your Home away from Home

FEA MINISTRIES invites you to stay in Friendship Hall when you visit South Florida. Our newly renovated rooms feature attractively themed décor, new bathrooms, and comfortable memory foam mattresses. The upgraded kitchen and lobby provide a beautiful atmosphere in which to relax and connect with friends and family. Reasonable room pricing makes this facility a great place to use as your home base for Florida sightseeing. Located on the same campus as Hobe Sound Bible Church, you have the opportunity to worship with fellow Christians.

“Is prayer your steering wheel or your spare tire?” This question by Corrie ten Boom speaks of the priority we place on prayer. Too often in life prayer is relegated to the back burner until some crisis occurs. Then we grab the “spare tire” in desperation, hoping God will make the problem disappear quickly. God in His graciousness hears all the prayers of His children. However He wants us to approach prayer as the steering wheel which directs all facets of our life.

Prayer played a key role in the selection of FEA’s President-Elect Harold Martin. The Board of Directors designated every Monday morning for several months as a time of fasting and prayer that God would clearly direct them to the individual He desired to be president. Those prayers were answered, and God gave them wisdom. Now as the transition unfolds, prayer must continue to remain the daily key component. Join with us in lifting the following needs to God’s throne.

PRAY FOR PRESIDENT SIDNEY GRANT

Throughout the coming months, Sidney Grant will not only be wrapping up his last term in office but will also be preparing Harold Martin to assume the full responsibilities as president of FEA in February 2017. Pray that God will give him special strength through this transition and wisdom as he determines his plans for the future.

PRAY FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT HAROLD MARTIN

As with any time of personal transition, there are many details involved. In addition to concluding his work at Missionary Flights International (MFI), he will be broadening his understanding of the scope of FEA’s ministries and forming his vision for the future. Pray for God’s continued guidance both for him and his family as they prepare for this new phase of ministry in their lives.

PRAY FOR MISSIONARY FLIGHTS INTERNATIONAL

For nearly fourteen years, Harold Martin has been an integral part of MFI. His excellence as a pilot and his leadership abilities were the reason he was chosen to help lead MFI as executive-vice president. Pray that MFI will find the right individuals to cover the responsibilities Harold leaves behind.

PRAY FOR THE FUTURE OF FEA MINISTRIES

FEA remains committed to its purpose of serving the church and reaching the world. We are grateful that God has blessed us with another quality leader who will help us continue to be effective in this mission. Join us in praying for even greater global impact in the years to come. 🙏
